

University of Pittsburgh
Office of the University Registrar

PeopleSoft Waitlist Announcement

New PeopleSoft Feature Available – Waitlists on Labs/Recitations

Effective for the spring of 2015 registration period, waitlists are now available on undergraduate labs and recitations and their associated lecture sections.

If a lecture that has a lab or recitation is closed, students can place themselves onto a waitlist for the lecture section as well as one of the associated labs/recitations. In order to be successfully enrolled into that closed lecture, seats must be made available in both the lecture and lab/recitation combination the student selected.

Please note the following:

- Students cannot be waitlisted for alternate lab/recitation sections if already enrolled in a lecture and lab/recitation combination, unless they are also attempting to get onto a waitlist for a different lecture section. Since enrollment into lectures and labs/recitations must occur simultaneously, students would have to give up their seat in the lecture section until space is made available in the closed lab/recitation.
- Students can be waitlisted for multiple sections of stand-alone labs.
- SWAP should not be used to attempt to get on a waitlist for a closed lab or recitation, if students are already enrolled in the lecture associated with that closed lab or recitation. Students will be dropped from their enrolled class and placed on the waitlist for the lecture until a seat opens in the closed lab/recitation, since students cannot be enrolled in a lecture section and waitlisted for that same lecture simultaneously.

For additional information visit: www.registrar.pitt.edu/faq.html